Slightly Higher Temperature Promised, Phenomena Seen At Oil City

Accompanied by scattered snow flurries, another cold blast, the second in less than a week, sent Pennsylvanians scurrying to retrieve sweaters and mittens today.

Death took a hand in the new blast by claiming three lives. In northwestern Pennsylvania, the state's various "ice-boxes" reported temperatures sinking as low as 25 below zero. Those that reported lows for the winter in earlier rendezvous with Jack Frost today were letting the world know of new records being established or of old records being equalled.

Kane, located in the hills of McKean county, reported the mercury dropped to 25 below during the night.

In the same district, Ludlow reported 4, McKinley Station 24, Wilcox 16, Mt. Jewett 14, all below zero.

Venango County Cold.

In Venango county the mercury nose dived over night for new record.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Ice hockey is becoming a popular sport with boys of the city. Youngsters are taking advantage of the cold weather by playing hockey on Big Run Creek, the South Side and on Neshannock Creek, near the South Mill street bridge, Pa New observed Friday afternoon.

According to figures furnished by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, of the Pennsylvania Department of Health 59.6 per cent of all deaths in the state for the first nine months of last year were from accidental causes. Automobiles led, closely followed by falls, while accidents in mines and close followed by drowning and burns.

Mrs. A. B. Cartwright, of East Side suggests if we happen to get a nice new road in the city it would be a good idea to call it Roosevelt Drive in honor of our beloved President.

A new low for the winter was established this morning, when an official temperature of five below zero was recorded at the water works. This came on the heels of anticipated warmer weather. Sunday's forecast is for warmer weather and possibly rains, which would not be unusual for Sunday, as there has been but one fair Sunday in the last two months.

Activity at the federal-state employment office in the Johnson building, for weeks the bustling center of CWA hiring, has subsided with the coming of orders to hire no more additional men for that emergency work.

Over on Atlantic avenue a small group of pedestrians was spared from injury by only a small margin last night when a truck driver swerved his van suddenly. Pa New observed Friday afternoon.

Discharge Deadlocked Jury In Touhy Trial

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Roger Touhy, the gang chieftain, and two followers reposed in county jail cells today, awaiting the ordeal of a second trial in criminal court for the $70,000 ransom kidnapping of John "Jake the Barber" Factor, wealthy stock promoter.

Their first trial in the sensational abduction case collapsed last evening when, with the jury hopelessly deadlocked after 26 hours of spirited debate, Judge Michael Feinberg declared a mistrial.

Discharging the jury, Judge Feinberg immediately set Feb. 13 as the date for the new trial of Touhy and his co-defendants, "Gloomy Gus" Schaefer and Albert "Polly Nose" Kator.

Factor, who has been ordered extradited to England for trial on charges of promoting a $70,000 stock swindle, is the mainstay of the state's case against the three Touhyites. Prosecutor Courtney expressed the hope that his removal, postponed several times, can be delayed further so the speculator can testify again.

Suspect Floyd Led Bandits In Eastern Hold-Up

(International News Service)
PENNSGROVE, N. J., Feb. 3.—The pine wilderness of Southern New Jersey today was honeycombed by armed posses of police and citizens, ordered to "shoot to kill without warning," in a monster manhunt for the four desperadoes who staged a sensational $130,000 hold-up on the threshold of the National Bank and Trust Company here.

Suspected as the leader of the gang which executed the daring robbery yesterday was Charles A. "Red" Floyd, Oklahoma's modern counter-part of Jesse James. The holdup was accomplished in a manner characteristic of the southwestern killer and outlaw, who less than two weeks ago was reported seen entering New Jersey from Pennsylvania.

Gathering momentum swiftly, the gigantic search for the robber band spread from New Jersey into four other states—New York, Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

But, after an all-night checkup of highways, sideroads, bridges, rail and bus terminals and airports in the five states produced no trace of the fugitive bandits, leaders of the hunt concentrated on the wilds of Southern New Jersey. It was believed likely that the gang, realizing how closely the main traffic arteries and populous centers were being watched, sought refuge in some abandoned shack in a remote section of the pine woods.

Pay $44,000 To CWA Workmen

Pay day for the CWA workers in Lawrence County today means a total of approximately $44,000 that is being distributed. Checks are being distributed to the workers on the job and most of the morning and the afternoon are being taken up with the work of getting out the coveted pay checks.

Test Oil Well Down 700 Feet

Good Progress Being Made In Well On Munnell Farm

LEASES TAKEN ON MANY NEARBY FARMS

Twenty-four hours per day a steel drill is hammering away at Mother Earth out in Slippery Rock township, on the way down to a possible oil strike on the Munnell farm. The drillers are down 700 feet now and after they get through the hard pack of the first 1,000 feet expect to be able to drill about 250 feet a day.

The well is attracting a lot of attention. Leases have been taken on 300 farms in the district and if oil is struck there will be an oil boom in Slippery Rock township that will rival the days of Drake around Titusville and Oil City.

It is planned to go down 5,300 feet in search for oil. Oil men are convinced there is still a pool of oil in Lawrence county that will yield large returns and are staking a large sum of money in the gamble of hitting it with the well now being drilled.

The well is already down most of the way. The well was started with a 13-inch hole, which has been cased with 10-inch casing. Below that there is an eight-inch casing and after the drills get to the 1,000-foot level there will be no casing put down.

The drillers have been working two weeks today and by tonight will be down about 800 feet. If their rate of progress is kept up they should be down where they expect to find oil some time after the middle of the month.

Push Effort To Keep CWA Going Until May, 1935

Wave Of Sentiment For Continuing Of CWA For Another Year Worries Congress

ADMINISTRATION IS FACING PROBLEM

Funds For Present Set-up Will Be Exhausted Shortly, Is Reported

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Alarmed by a wave of sentiment for continuation of the 4,000,000 CWA army beyond May, administration leaders of the house today were mobilizing their forces to hold expenditures to the president's program.

In an effort to prevent the house from "running away," leaders decided to call up the $950,000 bill requested by President Roosevelt under suspension of the rules on Monday.

The maneuver deprives the opposition of the right to offer amendment, but leaders in the fight for a far greater amount of money declared they can defeat "any gag rule."

Would Continue CWA
A proposal by Rep. Keller (D) of Illinois, to provide $1,500,000,000 to continue the Civil Works Administration until May, 1935, was the rallying point of the house liberals.

He planned to call caucuses of state delegations between now and Monday and ask the house to reject the $950,000,000 appropriation, in the hope of forcing the administration to accept a far greater sum.

This is no time to demobilize the Civil Works Administration which is providing employment to millions and aiding in the restoration of business by distributing money throughout the country," said Keller.

Funds Exhausted
Chairman Buchanan (D) of Texas, of the appropriations committee, warned the party bolters a long fight would result in suspension of the work of the CWA on February 10. Funds now are virtually exhausted.

"I think the bill will be passed on Monday just as the president wants it," said Buchanan.

Administration leaders claim the public works projects will begin to absorb thousands of persons early in the spring, and resumption of farm work is expected to take many more.

County Controller Files Appeal On Fee Decision

ALTAR BOUND

County Controller R. C. McCaslin, through his attorney, Orville Brown, this morning filed an appeal to the supreme court in the case of The Thayer Company against the controller, in which Judge R. L. Hildebrand issued a peremptory mandamus on McCaslin to pay $7,800 architects fees alleged to be due on the court house plans.

The appeal was in the regular form, setting forth that it was not taken for the purpose of delay, but for the purpose of getting a ruling on the question brought before the court.

The real issue involved is whether the controller acts in a discretionary or ministerial capacity in approving the claim for architects fees.

Under a new law the county commissioners with the approval of the court can purchase grounds and erect a court house. Controller McCaslin was not consulted when the contract was made. When it came to paying for the preliminary plans, the question of his jurisdiction was raised.

There has been no supreme court decision on the new law, and the opinion to be rendered will be of interest here as well as in other counties throughout the state.

In the meantime the payment of the $7800 will be held up until a decision is handed down.

SEEK END OF NEW YORK TAXI STRIKE

Mayor Offers To Arbitrate

Believe Tie-Up Will Be Quickly Adjusted—Conference Today

CAB DRIVERS WILL SEEK ADJUSTMENT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Early settlement of the taxi strike, which sent more than half the "hacks" in Manhattan back to their garages, was forecast today in the wake of an offer from Mayor F. K. LaGuardia to arbitrate the walkout himself or appoint a commission to negotiate a settlement.

Officials of four of the largest companies affected by the strike, the Terminal, Parmelee, Alliance and Keystone systems, conferred with the mayor at his home and announced they would seek another meeting today. Representatives of the striking drivers, it was said, would be asked to attend today's conference.

A joint statement from the cab operators said they would offer to negotiate the walkout, called because of dissatisfaction with disposition of the 5-cent tax on fares, on a basis previously suggested to the mayor. This would amount to 60 per cent on the tax, now being held in escrow pending final ruling of its legality, to the cab companies and 40 per cent to the drivers.

The operators said representatives of the drivers have indicated their willingness to return to work on that basis.

president of the Airways company, told the committee that on January 31 he took "half a dozen" papers from MacCracken's office and threw them in a waste paper basket after leaving them up.

Brittin's summons to appear before the committee added a new chapter to a swiftly moving drama involving prominent figures of the Hoover administration in air mail scandals that have created a nationwide sensation.

MacCracken To Appear Monday. While Brittin was being grilled by committee members' former assistant secretary of commerce William P. MacCracken was under arrest, and facing appearance Monday before the bar of the senate on contempt charges.

Committee investigators and department of justice agents delved through the files in MacCracken's office.

These files, seized by order of the senate, involved correspondence between the Hoover aeronautics chief and about a dozen big aviation firms for which he secured air mail contracts.

Purely Personal Papers. Brittin admitted that he went to MacCracken's office, for receiving a telegram from the former commerce official saying that the files had been subpoenaed.

"The papers I removed were purely personal," Brittin said. "I took them to my office and tore them up."

MacCracken was absent but Frederick Lee, his law partner, did not object to removal of the material, Brittin admitted.

"Why don't you tear up the papers in MacCracken's office?" asked Senator McCarran (D) of Nevada. "That wouldn't have been a nice thing to do?" the witness replied.

MacCracken Is Held. WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Moving inexorably to bare the air mail scandal of the Hoover administration in fullest detail, the senate today held former assistant secretary of commerce William P. MacCracken under arrest on charges tantamount to contempt.

Investigators for the Black senate committee, aided by department of justice files from the National Press Building.

The former department of commerce official, described by committee members as the biggest lobbyist for the "aviation trust," was released temporarily in custody of his attorney, Frank J. Hogan.

He faced the ordeal of an appearance Monday before the bar of the senate and the possibility of criminal indictment for contempt.

These developments climaxed a day of grimly dramatic happenings.

which included MacCracken's defiance of a senate committee subpoena to yield up his papers and correspondence dealing with air mail contracts.

Senate Indignant.

Its ire aroused by this refusal, the senate gave way to indignation when MacCracken confessed on the witness stand that he had permitted officials of two big aviation firms to spirit away files of "personal and confidential" correspondence badly wanted by committee investigators.

The "last straw," from a senatorial standpoint, was furnished by the revelation that "personal" files dealing with Northwestern Airways were destroyed by Col. H. L. Brittin, an official of that company after being removed with MacCracken's consent.

Senator Black (D) of Alabama, chairman of the investigating committee, ordered every effort be made to gain possession of the second missing file.

This morning his brother went to his home and when he received no answer to his knock he went in and found his brother had died sometime during the night. Mr. Gilbert had lived alone for some time.

He is survived by the one brother, and a sister, Mrs. Alice McQuiston, Elwood, R. D. 1.

Edgar Gunton Smith.

Word has been received in the city of the death of little Edgar Gunton Smith, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gubin Smith, 421 McKinley avenue, Butler.

Last Monday the tot was playing in the basement of his home when he fell into a boiler of boiling water. He suffered deep burns on his back; every means was taken to relieve the little one's suffering but he passed away Friday afternoon.

The Smiths were former residents of New Castle, having lived at 236 Euclid avenue and the friends here grieve for them in their sorrow.

The little chap would have been two years old on February 6. Funeral services will be held Monday at the home and interment made in Butler.

Rev. Hamill's Funeral.

Funeral services for the Rev. Robert Hamill were held Friday evening in the Mt. Jackson United Presbyterian church, which he had served twenty two years as pastor.

Dr. S. E. Irvine officiated, assisted by Dr. C. B. Fulton of Beaver; Rev. Ross M. Haverfield, Monongahela City, and the Rev. George M. Neill of the Bethel United Presbyterian church.

Many ministers of various denominations were among the crowd which overflowed the edifice. Gorgeous floral tributes surrounded him.

Volant Church Has Entertainment

Group Of Musicians From New Castle Aid In The Program In Methodist Church

A splendid program of entertainment was given in the Volant Methodist church Friday evening with the Y. W. C. A. mandolin and guitar club of this city, under the direction of Mrs. S. J. Callahan playing several numbers throughout the evening.

There was a violin number by Richard James Callahan; reading by Katherine Johnson; song, with ukulele accompaniment, Marian Smith; music by the club.

A clever playlet, "Midnight in the Toy Shop" was presented by the pupils of Grades 3 and 4 of the Neshannock public school, directed by Melie Hall and Mrs. Herman Hess. The children presented this in a most efficient and well trained manner.

The Hawaiian Serenaders of Volant played; Katherine Johnson gave a group of readings and the entertainment closed with music by the Mandolin Club.

The women of the church served a dairy lunch to the entertainers. A nice sum was realized for the church work.

CHILD PRODIGY FACES DUBIOUS FATE

AMBROSIOUS THEODOSIUS MACROBIUS was an obscure Latin grammarian, but Warren Bachelis, ready to enter college at the age of 13, knows all about him. Warren received his high school diploma in New York the other day, after spending a quiet afternoon reading a light tome called "General Pathology." But when a reporter asked him if he knew who won the 1933 World Series he replied "No."

This lad, who can answer ponderous questions on literature, science and economics, has all the mental earmarks of being a prodigy. We hope for the sake of his own happiness he will not remain one. The first thing he knows suggests a metropolitan daily he will be drafted in headlines as the "Youngest Brain-Truster." And then what will become of him?

MARTYRS ALL

Few things are so enjoyable to weak natures as a martyrdom that costs little or nothing.

It is commonly supposed that martyrdom of this kind is an evidence of unselfishness, but as a matter of fact, it is no more than a cheap method of stroking the ego.

The weak who are not abnormally vain may be content with self-pity but the combination of weakness and vanity demands sympathy. Sympathy is its bread and meat. It purrs with delight under the petting hand of pity.

Weak and vain folks make conversation of their afflictions, because those who have sympathy to give become callous and must be reminded that their pity is desired. Paradoxically, the self-styled martyr is the last to sympathize with a fellow martyr with even greater imaginary afflictions.

This martyr complex troubles nearly all humans to some extent. The child's cries are inspired more by hope of mother's consoling kisses and sympathetic words than by the little hurt. Wives complain about the burden of housework and husbands talk about "hard days" at the office in the hope of sympathy from their mates. And why do people talk about their operations, illnesses, etc., if it is not that they do not wish to make themselves appear as martyrs in the eyes of their friends and associates?

Martyrdom quickly turns up its toes to the daisy roots when its diet of sympathy is shut off.

LOST BILLIONS

The magnitude of the depression the country has been going through is seen vividly in the figures of a Department of Commerce report.

In 1929 the incomes measured as wages, salaries, dividends, etc., by individuals were $81,000,000,000. They fell to $75,000,000,000 in 1930, $63,000,000,000 in 1931 and $49,000,000,000 in 1932. The 1933 figures are not available, but were probably still less.

This report does not represent total national income. There were at least a couple of billions of corporate net income not distributed, but turned into surpluses and other savings. In 1929, then those savings swelled the totals in succeeding years as they were paid out to individuals and used to live on. It seems likely that at the lowest depression level there was a loss of about $40,000,000,000 a year in national income.

It will instantly occur to anyone that if the income can be raised even half way up to its former level by present governmental spending, it will be cheap at the price.

It is illuminating to see who lost this income. Most of the loss fell upon wage-earners. In six major industries their income for 1932 was 60 per cent below 1929. Salaries in the same group fell about 40 per cent. Stockholders lost about 56 per cent of their dividends. But income paid in the form of interest fell only 3.2 per cent.

This last item might suggest that all of us arrange for interest-paying investments to see us through the next depression.

STARLINGS PROVING BIG PROBLEM

A "hundred million starlings, more or less" have been pestering our national capital to bewilderment this winter.

The pesky critters, many of them doubtless seasonal visitors from their Lawrence county summer homes, have been perching all over the capitol, the senate and house office buildings and the library of congress, to mention only a few.

"Everything under the sun" has been tried to rid Washington of them. Keeping dome lights on through the nights, smoking with oily rags, strings of automobile sirens at the favorite roosting places—and finally a wholesale attack with a deadly gas.

The latter extermination attempt was made last week under the direction of experts from the chemical warfare service of the United States army. The gas is also deadly to human beings, and the drive had to be carefully handled in the dead of night. It was reported to have met with considerable success.

And so the fight goes on. Many officials are said to be optimistic that the blooming birds, who gave New Castle citizens many an unpleasant moment last summer, will be finally either exterminated or driven away.

The capital's plight points to a problem that will have to be dealt with in a wholesale manner over the entire eastern section of the country within the next few years.

TRAGIC FATE OF COURAGEOUS MEN

Tragic was the ending of that flight into the stratosphere during which the three Soviet balloonists reached a higher altitude than ever before attained by man. It was as mysterious as the cosmic rays which they studied while floating almost thirteen miles above the earth's surface. The real cause of the disaster probably never will be known. It was one of those unexplainable tragedies of the air. For a time after reaching the record altitude the trio talked by radio with government officials miles below them on the solid globe. All was reported well. Then there was silence. Later the bodies were found.

What they learned about the cosmic rays also probably will remain a mystery, for the scientific instruments were crushed when the gondola crashed to the earth. Did they discover something as record-breaking as their altitude? We can only play with that thought. It is saddening to think that fate should deal so harshly with the men who had the courage and the skill to face the unknown for the sake of scientific research.

That is, it is a fine thing to pay a poor boy's way through college if you do not care a darn about football.

Of course disarmament is possible. And the householder would need no gun if there were no thieves.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

WHY?
Lots of things I don't know. Hundreds of things I guess at, but don't understand. Thousands of things I wonder about, but can't quite explain. . . . I don't exactly know.

Why, when one child in a family is being particularly "difficult," his brother or his sister will be particularly good.

Why people will confide secrets to new friends that they wouldn't think of telling to the family.

Why a man will boast of knowledge of human nature, but wouldn't think of boasting of his courage.

Why we like to remember the mischief we did when we were children, but we avoid all reference to the times when we were good little boys.

Why it's fun eating scraps of food at midnight in the kitchen after guests have gone home.

Why you can save pins, rubber bands, nails and things that should be thrown away, but can't save any money.

Why we're peevish when we're tired.

Why an egg, a seed, the ocean and a new moon seem mysterious.

Why older people criticize younger people for doing just what older people did when they were younger.

Why people take risks with their lives with automobiles that they wouldn't take on mountain tops.

Why we imagine childhood as the happiest time of life, when we know we've been happier many times, and longer, since we grew up, than we were then.

Why we will defend our prejudices more hotly than we will our solidly arrived at knowledge.

Why we haven't more sense.

Why we ask questions that can never, never, never be answered.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WHEN A MON IS FU

London's city police department, with long experience in handling drunks, recognizes five stages of intoxication. The five stages, ranging in order of severity are as follows:

1. When the man feels that he is a jolly good fellow.
2. When he gets more under the influence or alcohol, becomes very excitable, and is likely to become quarrelsome and argumentative.
3. The depressive stage, when he begins to feel sorry for himself, is likely to become maudlin, feels the world is a very bad place and that everyone is down on him.
4. When he becomes definitely intoxicated, incoherent, and not able to control his feet.
5. When he becomes what is commonly called "blotto" or "dead to the world."

Your Income Tax

HUSBAND AND WIFE MAY FILE JOINT OR SEPARATE RETURNS
Husband and wife living together may each make a separate return of the income of each, or their income may be included in a single joint return. If a joint return is filed, such return is treated as a return of a taxable unit, and the income disclosed is subject to both the normal tax and the surtax.

Where separate returns are filed by husband and wife, the exemption of $2,500 may be taken by either spouse or divided between them, the husband, for example, claiming $2,500 and the wife $500. However, where the taxable income of one spouse is $4,000 or more in excess of the personal exemption, it is to the advantage of the couple if such spouse claims the total personal exemption, the reason being the difference in the normal tax rates, which are 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemptions, credits, etc., and 8 per cent on the balance. The case of a husband whose net income was $6,000 and a wife whose net income was $2,500 is an example, the husband claiming the total personal exemption.

Net income, husband $6,000
Personal exemption 2,500

Taxable, at 4 percent 3,500
Husband's tax 140

Net income, wife 2,500
Personal exemption None

Taxable, at 4 percent 2,500
Wife's tax 100

Total tax of husband and wife 240

Net income, husband and wife $8,500
Personal exemption 2,500

Taxable, at 4 percent 6,000
Subject to normal tax 6,000

4 percent on first $4,000 160
8 percent on remaining $2,000 25
Surtax on $8,500 150

Total tax of husband and wife 345

In the first example the couple are not required to pay the 8 percent normal tax and the surtax.

Yes, Yes, But Who In Places Would Want To Look Dignified In a Bathtub?

IT COULDN'T BE DONE

He started to sing as he tackled the thing that couldn't be done—and he did it.

He started to sing as he tackled the thing that couldn't be done—and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done, there are thousands to prophesy failure.

There are thousands to point out to you, one by one, the dangers that wait and assail you.

But just buckle right in with a bit of a grin, then take off your coat and go to it.

Just start in to sing as you tackle the thing that cannot be done—and you'll do it.

The World At A Glance

Quiet Washington Is the Boss Southern Gentlemen, Suh! Two Popular Men—Guess Who?

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Washington, center of the world's news, seems quiet in comparison with New York. The metropolis does the rushing, the capital gives the orders.

And when one says orders these days, he means orders. A few men reporting to President Roosevelt lay down the law. Folk haven't fully begun to realize that.

But what else is there to do? Our destinies must be put into the few hands or there will be no destinies, the average man reasons.

Thus the men who come daily to confer with the president are the men who rule today—not those on Capitol Hill.

EMBARRASSED
President Roosevelt—who seldom ever is embarrassed—seemingly was somewhat embarrassed by all the fuss made over his fifty-second birthday. Photographers desired to get him during the work-day in birthday poses—but, good naturedly, he would have none of it.

President Roosevelt—who seldom ever is embarrassed—seemingly was somewhat embarrassed by all the fuss made over his fifty-second birthday. Photographers desired to get him during the work-day in birthday poses—but, good naturedly, he would have none of it.

But every seat in the diner was taken. The seats were taken chiefly with businessmen coming to Washington to discuss codes.

They seemed nervous.

SOUTHERNERS

Washington still is one of the few remaining cities where classical southerners are seen. These men—with snow white hair and snow white goatees, with soft hats and soft accents—may be seen in hotel lobbies, in the senate galleries, even in newspaper offices. This must seem a queer, breath-taking age for them.

There will be selections from the Christmas Oratorio, Saint Saens; "Praise the Lord" by Randegeger, and the "Beatitudes" by Jennings.

Dr. McClure will then preach his sermon on the theme "Church Music, Its Use and Abuse." This sermon will answer the questions "Why is the choir sometimes called the war department of the church?" Important Events Taking Place Today Will Be Connected With The Scripture

Dr. J. A. Galbraith, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church, announces a series of sermons bearing upon important events taking place in the world of today and that have special emphasis in the Bible will be preached during the four Sabbath mornings of the month of February. The fulfillment of prophecy and the coming of Christ are among the most important topics of pulpit and church press of the present time.

Sabbath morning Dr. Galbraith will discuss "Why We Need to Pray. What Are Some of the Signs Prevalent Now? What Does Jesus Say Will Precede His Coming Again? Is a Great Revival Needed and When Will It Come? Is the Visible Church the Bride of Christ?"

The other three Sabbath mornings the sermons will be on the following subjects: "What Does It All Mean? The Jews Returning to Palestine. Recognition of Russia. More War Clouds. Wickedness in High Places, the Spiritual Apostasy, the Mark of the Beast, Famines, Pestilences, Earthquakes, the Last Days and the Coming of Christ. Can We Know What These Things Mean? If so, How?"

This series is planned to help the people who may hear them and to point out the necessity of preparedness at all times.

On Court House Hill

Judge R. L. Hildebrand has announced a session of sentence court to be held on Saturday, February 10. District Attorney Mont L. Alley reports that a number of prisoners in the county jail have signified their intention of pleading guilty, rather than wait for the March term of quarter sessions court.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has returned home from Fairview penitentiary from which institution he took a prisoner to the Torrance hospital for the insane. He made the trip by auto, and reports that he ran across some very slippery roads in the eastern part of the state, but made the trip without accident.

A commission for J. Russell Broadbeck as Justice of the Peace of North Beaver township has arrived and has been recorded at the register and recorder's office. A commission has also been received for Rudolph Thies, of this city, as a notary public.

Considerable trouble was experienced yesterday in locating a leak in water lines in front of the County Jail on Court street. The leak appeared to be in a main leading into the boiler room of the county buildings, but the pipe was found to be clogged in the boiler room. Several large holes had to be cut in the street before the source of the trouble was discovered. Water Company workmen found the ground frozen under the concrete of the brick pavement when it was torn up.

An increasing number of laws are being repealed by successive terms of the legislature, according to some data prepared by Attorney C. H. Aikens. At the session of 1921, there were three; at the session of 1923, two; at the session of 1925, seven; in the 1927 session nine and in the 1929 session thirty-one. Notwithstanding the number of laws being repealed there are always a lot of new ones passed which more than makes up for the loss.

The First National Bank of New Wilmington, use of R. H. Wilson, receiver, has filed a writ in attachment at the prothonotary's office against Vera L. Welch, in which the sheriff is directed to attach any distributive shares in the hands of Carrie D. Getty, executrix in the estate of the late Howell T. Getty. A similar attachment has been issued against Inez A. Hope, to attach any securities belonging to her that may be found in the hands of the executrix of the Getty estate.

Some old records which are taking up room in the vault back of the sheriff's office are being transferred to the boiler room. The books are mostly old records relating to tax abatements claimed by assessors, and are practically worthless. There is a lot of junk stored in the basement and belfry of the court house that may as well be burned, as it will never be of any use to anybody. There may be some records in the dust covered piles that still have a value, but they could easily be sorted out if anybody would take the trouble to do so.

A writ in attachment has been filed at the prothonotary's office by Warren D. and Lettie A. Stewart against Milfin R. and Jennie Weatherly in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money belonging to defendants that may be found in the hands of Elizabeth and William Sausman, and summon them as garnishees.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has a revolver which was given to him by an Australian officer, while he was in the service overseas in Italy during the world war. The cylinder holds eight cartridges. No cartridges could be obtained here to fit it, but Sheriff Pritchard had the barrel reamed out by a local gunsmith and now it shoots a 32 calibre bullet.

District Attorney Mont L. Alley has entered a nolle prosequi on the first count of an indictment against Mike Shenker. The count charged assault with intent to commit rape. The nolle prosequi was entered after the district attorney had examined the complainant and found that the charge could not be sustained. Shenker is still charged with assault and battery.

Social Affair At Wurtemburg

Mary Braden Circle In Charge Of Social Program At U. P. Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—The Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church was the scene of a merry gathering last evening when more than 100 members and friends of the congregation assembled for a general social gathering arranged by members of the Mary Braden circle.

A well arranged program of contests and stunts held the attention of everyone throughout the evening and caused much merriment. In the children's contest Leatrice Koach, Donald Hepler and Frank McElwain were presented prizes for their successful efforts.

A style show featuring the latest styles for midday was given by the men and they caused a riot of laughter as they paraded back and forth with their gowns reminiscent of the past century. Harry Furey and Guy McElwain were chosen as the best models and received fitting awards.

The ladies were asked to display their skill in the art of dentistry when they were given wall paper cleaner and grains of corn to mold a set of false teeth. Those displayed by Mrs. Charles Gallaher was judged the best.

Each of the young men was given a most difficult stunt to perform and the audience judged the one acted by Richard Campbell as the most amusing. An apple eating contest followed and the young ladies proved more difficult than expected as the apples were tied on long strings and could not be touched with the hands. Miss Florence McElwain succeeded in consuming her apple first.

An interesting feature of the evening was a spelling bee which was entered by the majority of the group. Miss Faye Gallaher was the successful entrant. The climaxing event was the serving of tempting refreshments by circle members.

A large measure of credit for this successful affair is due Mrs. Victor Koach, Mrs. Donald Hepler, Mrs. Russell Campbell, Miss Frances Mehard and Miss Matze Felen who arranged the entertainment and Mesdames Francis Kirk, Michael Huber and James Hazen, who were in charge of refreshments.

First Half Is Won By Finish No. 1, Friday

Cinch Title With 19-11 Victory Over Mechanicals At Shelby Last Night

INSPECTIONS DOWNS FINISHING NO. 2

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—Finishing No. 1 washed away all doubt as to their right to the first half title of the Shelby League last night with their 19-11 victory over the Mechanicals. The first half was scheduled to end next Friday, but since Finishing No. 1 has clinched the title, the officials decided to close it last night.

Only a defeat could have prolonged the half. In this case there would have been a three way tie, and a play-off would be necessary. The champs were the masters of the situation throughout, never once losing the lead, although they were closely pressed at times.

In the second game of the evening the Inspection passers, the only team to have defeated Finishing No. 1, triumphed. Inspection held a commanding lead in every period. The second half will begin next Wednesday officials announced today. The participants in the game will be announced later, as the schedule is incomplete as yet.

Tubers Nosed Out By Beaver Falls

Visitors Win Thrilling Game 25-24 In Last Minute Of Play Friday

DICICCIO, LAMENZO ARE HIGH SCORES

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—Entering the final quarter with a three-point lead, the Ellwood City high cagers were unable to hold their advantage and were nosed out by Beaver Falls high, 25-24, in the last minute of play at Lincoln gym last night. Every second of this last quarter was filled with exciting action.

The Benedictmen got off to a slow start, but in the second and third periods they hit their full stride and were giving the Beaver Falls Tigers a neat basketball lesson when their off present last quarter jinx forestalled them again. Beaver Falls won by sinking one more free throw than the Ellwoodians. Both had registered 10 field goals apiece. The visitors accounted for five out of 11 fouls and Ellwood four out of 12.

Pivot men of both teams starred in the game. Diciccio made five baskets and three fouls for Beaver Falls, and Lamenzo registered a like number of field goals for the blue and white. R. Carnely also played a fine game for the visitors, as did Latiano for the Tubers.

The visitors took a 6-3 lead in the first quarter. But in the ensuing period the locals' offense began to click and by the end of the half they enjoyed a 12-8 lead. The third period was played on a more or less even basis, with the visitors scoring nine points and Ellwood eight. The score at the end of the period was 20-17 for Ellwood.

In the final quarter the large crowd was electrified until the closing whistle sounded. Twice the score was deadlocked and twice each team broke it. A foul and basket by Diciccio tied the score at 20-20 early in the period. After Latiano missed a free throw for Ellwood, Winovich placed the visitors out in front with a well placed shot from under the hoops. Bunny deadlocked the score at 22-22 with a beautiful shot from the side lines.

McFadden then muffed a free throw for the Tubers. With a fancy shot from the side lines Lesinski shot the Heckathorne men out in front again. While in the act of shooting R. Carnely was fouled and was awarded two shots. He converted up one of these. Shirley replaced McFadden, who was taken out via the personal foul route. With a minute and a half to go Shirley made an auspicious start by caging a field goal from the side lines to make the score 25-24.

In the final minute Ellwood had possession of the ball throughout. They muffed no less than three chances to win the game, when three men missed easy shots from under the hoops.

Reserves Triumph

In the preliminary game the Ellwood high reserves downed the Beaver Falls reserves by a 22-19 score in an thrilling game as the varsity one. Cole, Stoughton and Kravay were in the thick of the fray. Veltri and Fubio were best for Beaver Falls.

Steel Executives Complaint Will Not Affect Order

Johnson Says President's Order On Worker's Elections Will Be Carried Out

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Complaint of steel executives against President Roosevelt's decree ordering the national labor board to supervise workers' elections will have no effect upon present arrangements of the NRA. Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson declared today.

"We are going to carry out the provisions of the Presidential decree and supervise employees' elections wherever controversy exists in regard to naming labor representatives," General Johnson declared. It will not be necessary to hold these polls on company property. We will designate public polling places and conduct the elections without interference with the rights of the companies involved. Until the workers themselves decide the kind of representation they want to confer with their employers, there doesn't seem to be much reason for employers' complaints."

Scout Court Confers 'Eagle' Pins On Ten At Colorful Ceremony

The most significant Court of Honor ever held in this county, in the opinion of many scouts, was held in West Pittsburg last night. Ten Eagles were inducted, with each Eagle pinning the tiny solid silver Eagle on his mother, and the mother in turn, pinning on her son's uniform the regulation Eagle badge of the Boy Scouts. There, but what followed the presentation was the climax. Seven West Pittsburg boys, with their scoutmaster, came on the platform with their mothers, but behind these Scouts stood seven new boys, all of them 12 years old, all having just completed their tenderfoot work. The Eagles, and their mothers were presented to the court, the ceremony above took place and the Eagles filed off the platform, leaving in their places the seven new Scouts to fill their ranks in the troop. These boys were then inducted as tenderfoot Scouts.

Despite the fact that the court was held outside of New Castle, a big crowd of local troop Scouts and scouters were in attendance, and a throng of West Pittsburg folk, so that the auditorium was filled to overflowing.

Rev. A. M. Stump presided, assisted by Messrs. Howell, Dr. Burr Rogers, Ralph Davis, E. L. Thompson, Hans Drio, Dr. R. C. Lutz, all representing local troop and Cub committees, with Eagle Alfred Stump acting as clerk and the executive, H. G. Horton, as secretary. A large number of New Castle leaders were on hand and a group of candidate Scouts from Sunny avenue school was on hand with the leader and troop committee.

The names of Scouts and scouters who received awards are given herewith:

Two Boys Meet Death Coasting

Two Brothers Killed, Third Brother Critically Injured At Germantown, Pa.

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—The youthful laughter that once rang through the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Grill in suburban Germantown was stilled today. Sorrow supplanted the joy of a once happy family.

Only three of the six Grill children remained in the house. Two of them—Thomas 16 and Harry Jr. 14—lay dead, victims of a sledding accident on an ice coated street. A third brother, Robert 12, was on the brink of death in Woman's Medical College hospital.

Laughing and shouting with glee, the three boys ran out of their home last night to join playmates coasting down a hill.

"Let's race," they challenged their youthful friends.

In Path of Auto

Down the hill hurtled their sled gathering speed every foot of the way. Suddenly the sled ran directly into the path of an approaching automobile driven by Charles MacClenaghan.

The wheels of the car passed over sled and passengers.

MacClenaghan and other motorists lifted the bodies of Thomas and Harry from the wreckage of the sled. The critically injured Robert they rushed to the hospital where doctors today strove desperately to save his life.

Radio Stations Given Warning

Radio Commission Warns
Stations In Broadcasting Of Liquor
Matter

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—A sharp warning to radio broadcasting stations in the matter of advertising liquor on the air was delivered Friday by the Federal Radio commission.

Broadcasters and advertisers were reminded that the commission retains the right to determine whether a station is "serving the public interest" and asked "intelligent co-operation" where liquor advertising is concerned.

The commission made the following statement:
"The Federal Radio Commission calls renewed attention of broadcasters and advertisers to that section of the radio act of 1927 which provided that stations are licensed only when the operation will serve public interest, convenience and necessity, and asks the intelligent co-operation of both groups in so far as liquor advertising is concerned."

"Although the eighteenth amendment to the constitution has been repealed by the 21st, and so far as the federal government is concerned there is no liquor prohibition, it is well known that millions of listeners throughout the United States do not use intoxicating liquors and many children of both users and non-users are part of a listening public. The commission asks the broadcasters and advertisers to bear this in mind."

The commission will designate for hearing the renewal applications of all stations unimpaired of the foregoing and they will be required to make a showing that their continued operation will serve public interest, convenience and necessity.

Milk License Valid Only Until April 30

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—Licenses for milk and dairy dealers, which must be obtained from the new milk control board before February 12, will be valid only until April 30 of this year, the board decided today.

New licenses good for the year from April 30 until the expiration of the emergency Buckman control act will be issued during April under present arrangements.

The act as written has a life of 13 months and provides for licensing all the state's milk dealers annually. It was explained the board decided to have the extra three-month period at the beginning of its existence so that any defects in the system as hastily set up can be corrected by April.

In making public regulations governing license exemptions and deductions in computing license fees, the board announced appointment of Murray S. Kiess, Williamsport, brother of the late Congressman Edgar R. Kiess, as executive secretary at $3,000 annually.

The exemptions, in effect for the temporary licensing period to April 30, make it unnecessary for dealers handling less than 3,000 pounds of milk in any month since February.

1933, to obtain licenses. Dealers selling milk for consumption on the premises, such as soda fountains, restaurants and hotels, also are exempted from obtaining licenses. Producers selling to consumers and to dealers must be licensed only if their sales to consumers total 3,000 pounds in any month since February, 1933. All exempted dealers, however, will remain subject to the jurisdiction of the board.

In addition to deductions as stated on application forms which have been mailed all dealers, deductions may also be made in computing the license fee on all milk purchased from a licensed dealer if the milk has been included in the seller's computation for his license fee.

Oppose S. Lawrence Seaway Program

Pittsburgh District Opposed To Move For St. Lawrence
Canal

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—The combined forces of coal, power, railway and construction industries in this area stood opposed today to ratification of the St. Lawrence seaway.

The treaty, favored by President Roosevelt, is now before the senate. Coal operators in the Pittsburgh areas would face stiff competition from England if the treaty is ratified, in the opinion of A. S. Boden, secretary of the Western Pennsylvania Coal Traffic bureau.

A competitive industrial area, depriving Pittsburgh of many prospective new industries, would result from cheaper electric power, he claims would come with the seaway. Walter S. Finley, chairman of the board of the West Penn Power company, asserted.

He knocked the European champion down in the second and third rounds but the visitor refused to save a count.

It was a savage fight. Locatelli picked up a courageous stand. He bucked Tony often when he cut loose with his own right hand. He landed straight shots to the chin. Tony took them. He had to.

In Golf Journey At Agua Caliente

(International News Service)

AGUA CALIENTE, Feb. 3.—The final drive for the Agua Caliente $500 open championship was under way today.

Willy Cox of Brooklyn, leader in the first and second rounds maintained his position of dominance by winning a scintling 71 yesterday, leaving him a total of 210.

However, Willie Hunter, former British amateur champion and Southern California open title holder was right on his trail with a total of 211.

Four strokes behind the leader are Olin Dutra of Santa Monica, Paul Puryear of White Plains, N. Y. winner of this tournament a year, and Ky Lafoon, of Denver.

The contestor amateur honors to be developed into a three cornered affair among John Dawson of Chicago with 76-74-73-72, Dr. Cliff Hays of Portland with 72-78-70-71 and Chris Weaver, the California amateur, with 73-76-73-72.

Success: Holding your nose to the windstone while your children go to the devil.

(Special To The News)

NEW WYLLINGTON, Pa., Feb. 3. With both teams poised for a crucial game, with a sell-out house to watch the game, and with distinct recognition resting with the winner, Coach Chick Davies' Duquesne University five and Coach John Lawther's Westminster College quintet meet tonight on the iron-high school floor at 8:15.

The Duquesne five played hard games at Saturday at Thiel in which title two of the Hilliopp players are injured. However, with a wholick in which to point for the time and also to bring the injured men around, the Red and Black out-should be at the peak. Westminster had a hard game with Thiel on Wednesday night, but the players showed no ill effects, and went through spirited scrimmage on Thursday night and light workouts last night.

Duquesne will travel to Sharon's afternoon, arriving at about 3 o'clock. The Titans will leave Newington this evening, probably arriving in Sharon until 7 o'clock.

Coach Davies plans to start Birk Fieldman at the forwards, Brent center, and Moore and Reiter the guards. Coach John Lawther has decided to start Leyschok or Sweeney atone forward, Captain Douglass at the other, Bennett at center, and Wilhelm and Hunneke at the guards.

Duquesne won the first game this season, played at the Pitt pavilion on January 9, by a 35-31 score in a game which saw the Titans unleash a powerful attack in the final 10 minutes. This victory gave the Ducks a 1-6 advantage in games played in the series, and the Titans are eager to even the score tonight.

Advance ticket sales would indicate that the S. R. O. sign will be hung out early. Only about 150 were left late last night. The S. R. O. sign won't help much either, for there is no standing room available in the Sharon high gym. Four hundred Westminster students will attend the game despite the fact that many have gone home as far as Cleveland, Erie and Johnstown between semesters.

The lineups:

Douglass Elirel
Leyschok Feldman
Bennett Brent
Wilhelm Moore
Hunneke Reiter

Pass Into End Zone Be Called Incomplete Pass

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Only one of five suggested major changes in the football rules is likely to meet the approval of the rules committee of the American Football Coaches Association today.

The one change, which probably will be recommended to the committee for approval, would make the end zone part of the playing field for forward passing purposes.

An incomplete pass into the end zone now is ruled a fumbleback. Under the proposed change it would be ruled only an incomplete pass and the passing team would hold the ball.

Four other changes will be discussed, but they do not stand much chance of acceptance. They are: the proposal to bring the ball in 15 yards instead of 10 on plays that cross the boundary; elimination of the "dead ball" dead ball rule; return of the goal posts to the goal line and permission to forward pass from any spot behind the scrimmage line.

Neshannock School Has Lots Of Talent

Theatrical talent is plentiful in the Neshannock public school. This was proven Friday afternoon when the third and fourth graders cleverly presented a play, "Midnight in the Toyshop", before the student body of the Neshannock township school.

The production scored another hit last night when it presented the show in the Volant Methodist church before a large audience.

The scene of the play is a toyshop. Some 30 or 35 boys and girls attired as toys, are brought to life by the then cleverly present several small sketches and songs.

One of the outstanding scenes of the show is the "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf" version. From start to finish, the show proved entertaining.

The pupils in the show follow: Ragdoll—Edyde Black. Tin Soldiers—Bobby George, Hudson Plotts, Kenneth Moore, John Sankey.

Indian—Charles Moser. Cowboy—Charles Kahner. "Jack-in-the-Box"—Edward MacMillin, Billy Boalick, Lloyd Moore, Earl Connerly.

Pittsburgh Judge Makes Important Ruling, Will Be Taken To Supreme Court

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—Savings accounts in banks are not subject to Allegheny county's four-mill personal property tax, Judge Thomas F. Trimble of orphans court ruled.

In the decision, Judge Trimble held the Einstein bill passed by the last legislature, exempting interest and in accordance with public policy in protecting the thrift and upholding a sound banking system.

If upheld by the Pennsylvania supreme court to which it likely will be carried, the decision will deprive the county of $800,000 yearly revenue, representing the tax on more than 200 million dollars.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

SHALL HOUSES

When'er I drive the town at nights Through little twinkling panes I see the merry twinkling lights Along the streets and lanes. And I can fancy at their beds The children kneel in prayer When all the old and weary heads Have said good night to care.

The larger mansions I pass by I scarcely turn to see, Although I know no reason why They should not happy be. But dreams and fancies seem to cling To little homes aglow And strangely back to me they bring The days of long ago.

For of a little house was I. With pretty rooms and small And friendly neighbors living by Who often stopped to call. From cellar to the roof I know The path the children run And up and down it I could go As I so oft have done.

At little windows panes I see The curtains white and trim And memories come back to me Which time can never dim. Though richer folk appear to be Thrice over ten times blest The little homes appeal to me Because I know them best.

Unemployment In State Shows Drop To 791,721 At End Of 1933 Year

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—A total of 101,616 persons found employment in Pennsylvania between mid-November and mid-December, the department of labor and industry reported today.

The department estimated the total number of unemployed on December 15 at 791,721.

R. F. D. No. 2, New Castle, Pa. Feb. 2, 1934

New Castle News, Sirs:— May I ask why a man can not run for an office on his own reputation?

I read in your paper this week that Senator Salts thinks he can restore harmony in the Republican party, by putting up one man for governor and another for United States Senator.

How can he expect to bring harmony into the party when one of his suggested candidates has shown himself to be a Democrat, in placing himself in that position since the election of a Democrat president.

I am going to suggest a man that is a man, for the high position of wealth and who is truly a Republican. He should receive the vote of every motorist in our state, for what he has done in the past and can do in the future.

The man whom I wish to suggest is Mr. Benj. G. Eynon, a man who would be for the people.

And as Mr. Salts wants it, I would name Senator David A. Reed as a running mate with Mr. Eynon.

We would then have two true Republicans in the race for the two important offices of our state.

Eynon could win and we know Reed can win. I could like to hear from the motorists or others to whom this suggestion meets with approval. Let New Castle nominate Mr. Eynon. Thank you.
